

Mumpower's Courage To Stand Alone Will Serve WNC Well

Nancy Nesbitt, Leicester
September 23, 2007 12:15 am

Give me men to match my mountains. Men and ladies to think and act, supporting and defending our very liberty. Yes, it takes Courage to Stand for Truth and Righteousness, in the face of Evil and Corruption, but of what worth are we if we do not identify the cause, and strike at the Root? – Anonymous.

Councilman Carl Mumpower is what some might call “a fly in the ointment.” (If I am not mistaken he actually received an award titled as such from his own party.)

I call Mumpower righteous, true and honorable. He stood and continues to stand in the gap for us. Some people have not learned the power of one humble lone vote or one humble person and the resounding sound across our county, state and nation that one vote can make.

Instead they stand with the socialist types across the aisle, but inside, oh, how they wish they had what it takes to stand alone.

Thanks to Mumpower for standing in the gap for us, and by his consistent conservative record, we know we can soundly place our trust in him — our next United States congressman from the 11th District.

Nancy Nesbitt, Leicester